2022 Call for Manuscripts

TxEP is the journal of the Consortium of Texas Teacher Educators, a non-profit organization dedicated to the continual support and refinement of preparation and development programs for certified school personnel in Texas. The journal seeks to encourage, support, and report research and development of educator preparation. TxEP welcomes submissions of research, practitioner-based, or professional emphasis. Each manuscript is subject to a double-blind peer review and must be previously unpublished nor under consideration for publication elsewhere.

The theme for the summer 2022 volume is “Teachers Can: Passion, Positivity, and Perseverance”. The last two years demonstrated the necessity of teachers and highlighted their passion, creativity, and perseverance. TxEP invites manuscripts of research, practitioner, or professional scope for publication.

Articles are welcomed for submission now through April 15, 2022. The 2022 volume of TxEP will be published in Summer 2022.
